WELCOME

On behalf of the Tokyo Organising Committee of the Olympic and Paralympic Games, I am delighted to present the Cycling Road Race Manual for the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games. We have been working diligently to provide facilities, services and procedures which will allow everyone involved in the Games to safely achieve all three of Tokyo 2020's core concepts: achieving personal bests, unity in diversity, and connecting to tomorrow.

Included is information about:

- competition-related processes
- key dates and personnel
- competition format and rules
- venue facilities and services, including maps and course profiles
- information about COVID-19 protocols, accreditation, accommodation, Games-time medical services, etc.

This guide was produced in cooperation with the Union Cycliste Internationale (UCI) and IPC Sport, and we trust it will assist you with your planning for the Paralympic Games Tokyo 2020. If you require any additional information that is not found in this guide, do not hesitate to check Tokyo 2020 Connect or contact the Tokyo 2020 Cycling Road sport management team. Timing devices

Each rider will be issued with a transponder that must be used during the road events. The transponder will be issued with the body numbers after the team managers' meeting. The transponder must be installed on the front fork as low as possible, and will come provided with a cable tie to fix it to the front fork or as otherwise advised. The transponder will be collected after each athlete's last event on the flow from the mixed zone at the exit from the FOP. In case of a rider DNF or bicycle change during the race, the units must be returned directly to the Omega official timekeeper at the finish line.

Radio tour

Radio tour will be only provided for Time Trial races.

Following vehicles for time trials

For time trial, following cars will be authorized according to the following terms:

- One following car for a nation with up to six riders involved in the individual time trial, all sport classes combined.
- Two following cars for a nation with 7-12 riders involved in the individual time trial, all sport classes combined.
- Three following cars for a nation with 13-19 riders involved in the individual time trial, all sport classes combined.
- Four following cars for a nation with over 20 riders involved in the individual time trial, all sport classes combined.

The president of the commissaires panel can reduce the number of accredited vehicles if he considers it appropriate. All vehicle drivers must hold a UCI license issued by their national federation.

Time trial starting provisions

The starting order shall be determined by the UCI. There will be intervals of 1 minute between riders in each category and 3 to 5 minutes between classes. A rider is considered entered for Cycling Road if the rider is listed on the 'Entry List by NPC'. After confirmation of starters, the entry list will be published together with start lists.

Feed zones and litter zones

The left side feeding zone will be available for the road races situated in pit lane with feeding on left side. The right side feeding zone will be available for the road races located at the wide track area about 100m before the entry to the pit lane, for feeding on the right.

To limit the number of personnel in the feed zone a certain number of wrist bands will be distributed to teams during rider confirmation.

The litter zones will be situated before the right hand feeding area.

Mechanical assistance zone

A mechanical assistance zone will be set up at the beginning of the feed zone for team mechanics to provide static mechanical assistance. Further static assistance points may be made available on the course at the discretion of Tokyo 2020 and the commissaires.

Lapped Rider

Road race

Any riders overtaken by the leader of their race shall continue competing. When the race leader finishes his last lap, all other riders shall end their race when they next cross the finish line.

Team Relay

When a rider from an NPC is lapped by the leader of the race, the NPC should be pulled out of the race and will be shown in the results as lapped.

Doping control

Tokyo 2020 is committed to delivering a world-class anti-doping programme during the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games. Under the direction of the International Paralympic Committee (IPC), the Tokyo 2020 anti-doping programme will ensure the integrity of sport is upheld and protect the rights and health of the athletes.

During the period of the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games (the Games), which starts from the opening of the Paralympic Village on 17 August 2021 up to and including the day of the Closing Ceremony on 5 September 2021 inclusively, the IPC Anti-Doping Code will apply.

Athletes qualified and registered by their NPC may be tested at any time during the Games Period, as well as in the lead up to the Games, regardless of their location.

Doping control-related operations

Tokyo 2020 Anti-Doping Programme is managed by the International Paralympic Committee (IPC). The IPC directs and oversees testing operations, including athlete selection.

Tokyo 2020 will introduce a paperless system to record the information related to the sample collection procedure by its Sample Collection Personnel (SCP). While the notification of athletes will be recorded on paper, the recording of the information related to the sample collection procedure will be done on a tablet.

Please note that athletes who have been selected for doping control will not be permitted to take a shower until they have completed the sample collection session.

For more details on the Anti-Doping Programme, refer to the Doping Control Guidebook in Tokyo 2020 Connect.

Victory ceremonies

The first three (3) riders from each event must attend the victory ceremony which will take place after the last competitor crosses the finish line in each session. Athletes must wear their NPC tracksuits at the victory ceremony. For the Team Relay, all three athletes from the top three teams must attend the victory ceremony.

Classification

Classification provides a structure for Paralympic competition. Athletes competing in para-sports have an impairment that leads to a competitive disadvantage. Classification determines who is eligible to compete in a para-sport and groups the eligible athletes into sport classes according to the impact of impairment on specific sport activities. The classification system minimises the impact of impairments on sport performance and ensures the success of an athlete is determined by skill, fitness, power, endurance, tactical ability and mental focus.

All athletes at the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games must comply with their respective sport's eligibility criteria, as stipulated in the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games Qualification Guide. This also applies to athletes nominated by their NPC using a Bipartite Commission application, by a Universality Wild Card (UWC) application, or as substitutes between the final entries deadline and the Delegation Registration Meeting (DRM) if applicable.

Athlete-specific classification data (sport class and sport class status) will be uploaded onto the Sport Entries system from the Classification Master Lists provided to Tokyo 2020 by the respective International Federations by 25 June 2021. However, athletes with a sport class status of 'Review' will be subject to classification evaluation in Tokyo unless the classifications have been completed by the time immediately prior to the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games.

Classification Evaluation Period for Cycling Road:
Physical Impairment: 29 August 2021

All information was correct at the time of publication in August 2021. Please refer to the Classification Guide published by IPC in order to check the latest information.

Penalties

The UCI penalty scale is the only one applicable to Tokyo 2020 Cycling Road events.

Mixed zone

A mixed zone has been planned in every venue and will operate for all competitions. Athletes pass through the mixed zone as they leave the field of play, but they are not obliged to speak to the media if they do not wish. Press Operations, in conjunction with Sport, control the operations of the mixed zone.

Victory ceremonies

There will be a briefing for medallists before each victory ceremony, during which athletes will be shown the route along which they will be led and reminded of their responsibility to adhere to the IPC Manufacturer Identification Guidelines for the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games. Only the athletes may be present at this briefing, unless otherwise indicated.

No participant in the victory ceremony should have flags, mascots, a mobile phone, a camera, headphones, sport equipment or other items on them during the ceremony; this is a breach of the IPC Manufacturer Identification Guidelines for the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games. Athletes must be wearing their NPC tracksuits. Please also note that no one other than athletes and those who are part of the Victory Ceremonies team (part of Sport Presentation) may be part of the victory ceremony.

During the victory ceremony, the Doping Control team is required to keep a direct line of sight with athletes at all times. It is imperative athletes do not deviate from the prescribed routes outlined in the briefing.

Press conferences

Post-competition press conferences may be held with medallists shortly after every cycling road event. Professional interpretation services will be provided at all press conferences. For cycling road, consecutive interpretation will be available.

Results distribution

There will not be regular distribution of printed results to the NPCs available from SID in the Athletes' Lounge. For certain reports, a limited number of copies will be distributed to team leaders. Results for all sports will be available through Info and myInfo, and the Tokyo 2020 official website.
